

VOGUE POOLS

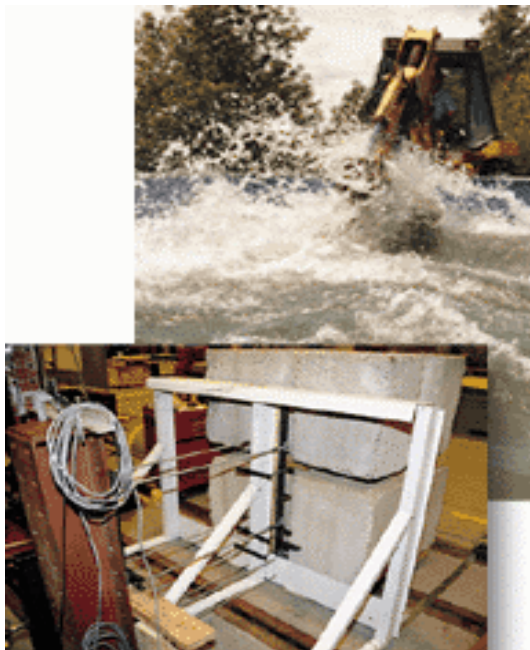

The World's Leader in Aboveground Pools

Why a Vogue Pool?

Vogue Pools has been making and exporting above ground swimming pools for over 30 years now. Not only does the quantity of their pools meet and exceed all NSPI standards (the highest safety standard for swimming pools in the world) they also were the first company in the world to come out with the blow-moulded resin frame pool. They are rigorously tested in house and by independent laboratories to ensure that their reliability, safety and performance levels are always of a very high standard.

Why are quality pools lab and field tested?

To make sure there is never any bias in our results, all Vogue pools are tested by a recognized, independent research laboratory. So while we give you our word on quality, there is also a leading independent research lab to back up everything we say!
